Still Knowing

"What do you know?" That may be a challenging question to answer, because we know so much. Here's another question: "What do you know that really matters in life?" That question is even more difficult to answer. We are exposed to an overwhelming amount of information in the course of a day. Our minds are constantly abuzz with thoughts about many things, but what kind of knowledge is essential? Psalm 46 invites us to be still and know what is most important in life. Are you willing to venture into "still knowing"?
