Discovering Our Worth in Worship

As we pass the mid-point of the summer, during which we normally try to take some time off or schedule a vacation, the question is have you had a break? Taking a break is not a bad thing. In fact, in scripture we see Jesus taking time to be alone and get away for short periods of rest. Yet even in times of rest, we can find ourselves confronted with people in need. Our neighbors are not always just the folks who live next door. Many times, our neighbors are those we encounter on our journey which is away from where we live. As you prepare for worship this morning, take a few deep breaths and “rest in the Lord.” Now, ask God to help you see your neighbor this morning.
