Bread for Today and for Tomorrow

The smell of fresh baked bread can be one of the most amazing smells we can encounter. It seems to seep deep inside us and many times brings a smile to our face. Bread is a staple of life. It comes in a wide variety of shapes, sizes, textures, colors, and taste. Yet, the basic ingredients have always been the same: flour and water. Two simple ingredients which can sustain life and fill our empty stomachs. So, as you prepare for worship this morning, think about the many different kinds of bread you have eaten and the various places in which they occurred. Take a moment to reflect on how God has provided you with “daily bread.”
